

НА КНИЖНОЙ ПОЛКЕ

ИССЛЕДОВАНИЯ ЦЕНТРА КОМПЛЕКСНОГО КИТАЕВЕДЕНИЯ И РЕГИОНАЛЬНЫХ ПРОЕКТОВ МГИМО УНИВЕРСИТЕТА

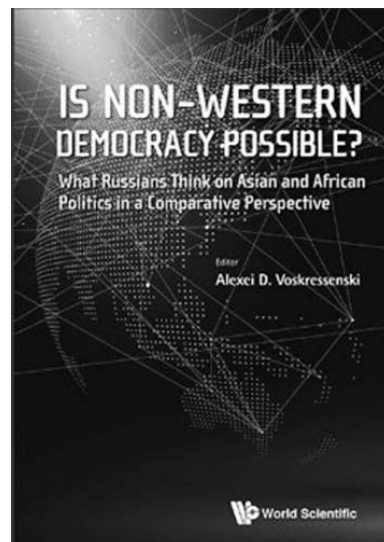

Alexei D. Voskressenski.
Non-Western International Relations Theories:
Conceptualizing World Regional Studies. Springer Global (Europe & America): Palgrave Macmillan,
2017. 270 p.

This book analyzes the concept of World Regional Studies as well as regional complexes, regional subsystems, and global regions. It explains the emergence of new phenomena in international relations and world politics on a regional and predominantly non-Western regional level. It tackles the following issues: How do non-Western societies react to the transformations of the global order? Is a non-Western democracy possible? Should we discuss the possibilities for the appearance of a non-Western IR theory or a new framework for analyzing de-westernized global development?

Alexei D. Voskressenski (ed.) Is Non-Western Democracy Possible?
A Russian Perspective.
With introductions by Kevin Rudd,
Adam Przeworski and afterword by Subrata Kumar Mitra. Singapore:
World Scientific, 2017. 738 p.

This book describes and analyses the influence of political culture on political processes in the Eastern world. It allows readers to make a comparative appraisal of the maturity of civil society in these countries as well as their specifics in political interactions and internal political competition seen through the eyes of a group of distinguished Russian researchers. It also explains why the one-dimensional spread of democracy — completely negating or neglecting regional political-cultural specifics — may lead to war among civilizations instead of the formation of a more just and fair system of democratic governance.

Alexei D. Voskressenski & Boglarka Koller (eds.). The Regional World Order. Transregionalism, Regional Integration, and Regional Projects across Europe and Asia. Lanham, Boulder, New York, London: Rowman & Littlefield / Lexington Books, 2019. 228 p.

The book explores ideas of how Europe, Eurasia, and Asia transformations may develop in the future focusing on transregional, regional integration, and regional projects – particularly Chinese. The volume employs a rigorous conceptual framework over a wide geographic range and applies different approaches to ask and answer challenging questions. The arguments presented in this book are built around the concepts of regionalism and transregionalism. The book is a collaborative project between MGIMO and the National University of Public Service (NUPS), Budapest.

Мировое комплексное регионоведение: введение в специальность. Под ред. проф. А.Д. Воскресенского. М.: ИНФРА-М, 2021. 448 с.

World Regional Studies: Introduction to the Field of Studies / Ed. by Alexei D. Voskressenski. Moscow: Magistr: INFRA-M, 2020, 2021. 448 p.

The textbook is devoted to the external and internal aspects of regionalization and transformation of regions of the world. It explains the direct connection between this topic and various trends in the development of the world political system as a whole.

Мировое комплексное регионоведение. Под ред. проф. А.Д. Воскресенского. М.: ИНФРА-М, 2021. 316 с.

World Regional Studies / Ed. by Alexei D. Voskressenski. Moscow: Magistr: INFRA-M, 2020, 2021. 416 p.

This is an innovative textbook, which reveals the main theoretical and methodological parameters of the discipline of World Regional Studies in the context of modern methodological discussions, comparative political science, theory of international relations, and other related areas. It explains the influence of internal structural and temporal factors of national and regional development on world politics and international relations.

Практика зарубежного регионоведения и мировой политики.
Под ред. проф. А.Д. Воскресенского.
М.: ИНФРА-М, 2020, 2021. 560 с.

Praxis of World Regional Studies and World Politics / Ed. by Alexei D. Voskressenski. Moscow: Magistr: INFRA-M, 2020. 560 p.

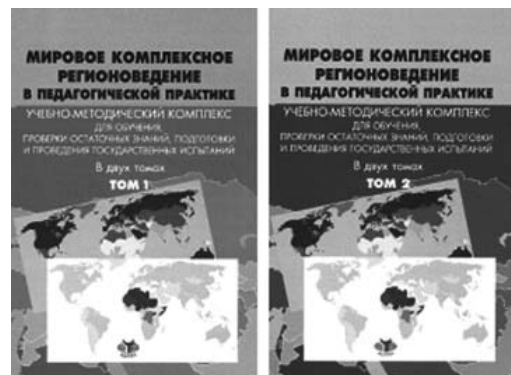

The research textbook shows the process of the historical evolution of world regions and regional subsystems of international relations analyzes the stages of their political and economic modernization and provides a comparative analysis of world politics in various regions.

Мировое комплексное регионоведение в педагогической практике. В 2-х т. М.: МГИМО, 2018 (56 п.л.)

World Regional Studies in Pedagogical Praxis (in two volumes). Moscow: MGIMO, 2018. 478 pp. + 598 pp.

These two books analyze trends in the development of global integrated regional studies as a comprehensive research area in close connection with the new realities of world politics and international relations. It also considers both international and regional educational and methodological innovations of recent years.

欧亚中心跨区域发展机制研究 Ou-Ya Zhongxin Kua Quyu Fazhan Tizhi Jizhi Yanjiu = Mechanisms of Transregional Development in Central Eurasia: Analysis and Prognostications. Edited by Li Xing & Alexei Voskressenski. Beijing: Jiu Zhou Chubanshe, 2016. 495 p.

This joint study by Russian and Chinese authors analyzes the transregional processes currently taking place in Eurasia. Such issues as cooperation in the Eurasian space, its new institutional mechanisms, as well as the motives of the main players are considered in a manner of discussion. The book concludes by examining forecasts for the development of Eurasia's geopolitical situation.

Ефремова К.А. Бирма/Мьянма: парадоксы демократического транзита (1987-2017). Москва: МГИМО-Университет, 2018. 186 с.

Efremova K.A. Burma/Myanmar: Paradoxes of Democratic Transit (1987-2017). Moscow: MGIMO University, 2018.

The book studies the main features of Myanmar society's political transformation over the past thirty years. It examines the reasons for the rise to power and the stages of evolution of the military regime, as well as the place of the National League for Democracy and its permanent leader Aung San Suu Kyi in the processes of democratization and national consolidation.

La Chine et L'Asie. Ed. by Jean-Pierre Raffarin. Paris: Ginkgo Editeur, 2018. 137 p.

The book talks about the main problems in the Eurasian space that are to be solved jointly by the European powers, Russia, the countries of Central Asia, and China.

